PREFACE.

— 1304260

THE following Bibliography of Cumberland and Westmorland, and Lancashire North-of-the-Sands Dialect Literature has been compiled with a view of preserving and bringing up to date a list of the books and fugitive pieces that have been printed and published.

The Bibliographies of Cumberland and Westmorland Dialect Literature that have already been attempted previous to this are (1) John Russell Smith's "A Bibliographical List of the works that have been published towards illustrating the Provincial Dialects of England," London, 1839. This pamphlet contains notices of eighteen editions of nine books in the Cumberland Dialect, and five books in the Westmorland dialect; and (2) the List published by the English Dialect Society as prepared by the late Wm. Jackson, F.S.A., of St. Bees, and afterwards printed in the second volume of his "Cumberland and Westmorland Papers and Pedigrees." Edited by his wife. London, 1892.

It would be an endless task to attempt to enumerate the various dialect pieces that have appeared in the newspapers of Cumberland and Westmorland, and in "Notes and Queries," but as many as have come under my notice I have set out in detail.

The Dialect Literature of Westmorland is not nearly so extensive as that of Cumberland, but the books in the latter dialect circulate largely in the County of Westmorland. Mrs. Wheeler's Dialogues are admirable specimens of the Southern part of Westmorland. Clarke's "T' Reysh Bearin," &c., of the Appleby dialect, and Southey's "Terrible Knitters e' Dent" of the Western Border and Langdale Dialect.

The Dialect of these two counties, it is said, changes with each mile, and the language is difficult of understanding by people living six miles apart.

The subject of this small publication is one in which from its nature only a limited interest can be felt. But I venture to think that the more contributions of the kind published the sooner we shall realise the ideal, so long suggested by the Bibliographical Society, of a comprehensive National Bibliography.

PART I.

GLOSSARIES AND DICTIONARIES DEALING WITH THE DIALECTS OF CUMBERLAND AND WESTMORLAND, AND LANCASHIRE NORTH-OF-THE-SANDS.

BAILEY (N.). AN UNIVERSAL ETYMOLOGICAL
ENGLISH DICTIONARY : comprehending the derivations of the generality of words in the English tongue . . ; also the dialects of our different counties.
8vo. London : 1721.

———2nd edition, with large additions, ib. 1724.

———3rd edition, ib. 1726.

———4th edition, ib. 1728.

Many other editions of this Dictionary were published between 1728 and 1782, the last mentioned was “carefully enlarged and corrected by E. Harwood, D.D.”

BELL (J. GRAY). A GLOSSARY OF PROVINCIAL
WORDS used in the County of Cumberland. 12mo.
London : 1851. pp. 19.

Only 60 copies printed.

BOUCHER (Rev. JONATHAN) 1738-1804. A SUPPLEMENT TO Dr. JOHNSON'S DICTIONARY OF THE ENGLISH LANGUAGE, or a Glossary of Obsolete and Provincial Words, by the late Rev. Jonathan Boucher. Part I. 4to. London : 1807.

The Rev. Jonathan Boucher died before any portion of his Dictionary was printed. Under the superintendence of his friend, Sir F. Morton Eden, the first portion containing the letter A was published in London in 1807, but no more was printed. It was again announced for publication under the editorship of the Rev. Joseph Hunter and Joseph Stevenson, Esq., in numbers at intervals of two months, an engagement never performed, for the first number appeared in 1832, and the second in 1833; the work was left unfinished.

Sir F. Morton Eden was the author of a playful satire entitled "The Vision," a poem addressed to the late Rev. Jonathan Boucher, London, 1828. A note on page 6 of this poem gives some idea of the spirit in which the poem was written:—"The learned Glossarist has incontrovertably proved that this great personage (i.e. Auld Nick) is no other than the northern Saint Nicholas. Indeed so tenacious is he of his Saint's pre-eminence, that he places him in the van of his Glossary; and Auld Nick must be looked for under the letter A; and not under the letter N."

BOUCHER (Rev. JONATHAN). GLOSSARY OF ARCHAIC AND PROVINCIAL WORDS, a Supplement to the Dictionaries of the English Languages, particularly those of Drs. Johnson and Webster. Edited jointly by the Rev. Joseph Hunter and Joseph Stevenson. 4to. London : 1832-3.

BROCKETT (JOHN TROTTER). A GLOSSARY OF NORTH COUNTRY WORDS IN USE, from an original MS. in the Library of John George Lambton, with considerable additions. 8vo. Newcastle : 1825.

BROCKETT (JOHN TROTTER). A GLOSSARY OF NORTH COUNTRY WORDS IN USE, with their etymology and affinity to other languages, and occasional notices of Local Customs and Popular Superstitions. Cr. 8vo. Newcastle : 1829. pp. 343.

—3rd edition, 2 vols. 8vo. Newcastle : 1846.

COOKE (G. A.) TOPOGRAPHICAL AND STATISTICAL DESCRIPTION OF CUMBERLAND. 8vo. London. 4/-.

Contains a list of provincial terms used in Cumberland.

CROWTHER (GEORGE, of Carlisle). A GLOSSARIAL CONCORDANCE TO THE CUMBERLAND BALLADS OF ROBERT ANDERSON, wherein all the most peculiar words are explained, and illustrative examples given from the writings of the Cumberland Bard. In MS.

DICKINSON (WILLIAM). A GLOSSARY OF THE WORDS AND PHRASES OF CUMBERLAND. Cr. 8vo. Whitehaven : 1859. 2/-

Contains a Dialect Poem entitled "The Words of Oald Cummerlan."

DICKINSON (WILLIAM). A SUPPLEMENT TO THE GLOSSARY OF THE WORDS AND PHRASES OF CUMBERLAND, with illustrative examples. 12mo. Whitehaven : 1867. pp. 43.

Both of the above books were republished by the English Dialect Society, in 1878 and 1879 respectively, and an additional Supplement by the same Society in 1881.

DICKINSON (WILLIAM). A GLOSSARY OF THE WORDS AND PHRASES PERTAINING TO THE DIALECT OF CUMBERLAND, re-arranged, illustrated, and augmented by quotations, by E. W. Prevost, with short digest of the Phonology, and Grammar of the Dialect, by S. D. Brown, B.A. 8vo. London and Carlisle [1900]. pp. 489. 10/-.

For supplement to the above see under Prevost, E. W.

DUCKWORTH (WM.) and MACPHERSON (Rev. H. C.)

See Macpherson.

ELLWOOD (Rev. THOMAS, Rector of Torver). LAKE-LAND AND ICELAND. A Glossary of Words in the Dialect of Cumberland, Westmorland, and North Lancashire, which seem allied to or identical with the Icelandic or Norse, together with cognate Place-names and Surnames, and a Supplement of words used in Shepherding, Folk-lore and Antiquities. 8vo.
London : 1895.

Also published by the English Dialect Society in 1897.
8vo. 5/-. pp. 96.

- 47.—A CUMBERLAND MARE'S NEST (a story founded on fact) by A.R.W. (of Keswick) in Cornhill Magazine, July, 1861, pp. 102-5.

A Poem on the discovery of the bones of a lamb, but supposed by the Lorton Wiseacres to be those of an illegitimate child, whose mother “went away for many weeks.” The result of the Cockermouth's Doctor's examination may be best given in his own words :—

“And so your master can't decide”

(He cried, while tears ran down his cheeks) “that this is not infanticide !
Why if these are an infant's bones—(from all such births deliver us.)
Look at these teeth ! it must have been an infant graminivorous !
The spinal vertebræ, too, prove (or else they nothing indicate !)
This marvellous infant had a tail ! as I'm prepared to vindicate !
In short, you Lorton Wiseacres, on coming to examine it,
Have found a regular Mare's Nest, and 'stead of Eggs, a Lamb in it !”

This translation was undertaken at the request of Prince Louis Lucien Napoleon. The song was also translated into the Dialects of Central Cumberland, East Cumberland, Northumberland, and Lancashire.

"T' Sang o' Solomon" is interesting reading to Dialect-lovers, and is a forcible reminder of the great number of good old words that are rapidly passing out of use. As showing the manner in which the Rev. John Richardson did his work, I quote a few verses from the fourth chapter, which may be compared with the authorized version by the uninitiated.

- 1.—Loo' the', thoo's fair, my luv; loo' the', thoo's fair; thoo 'as cushat eene inside thy locks; thy hair is like a flock o' goats as shews thersels fra' moont Gilead.
- 2.—Thy teeth is like a flock o' sheep 'at 's ebm-clipt, 'at cu's up fra' t' weishin'; ivo'ry yan o' them a breeder o' twins, an' nin gelt amang them.
- 3.—Thy lips is like a threed o' scarlet, an' thy talk is good like; thy temples is like a shive o' pumgranate inside thy locks.
- 4.—Thy neck 's like t' toow'r o' David built for an armoury, whar' ther' hings a thoosand buckl'rs, o' shields o' gert men.
- 5.—Thy twooa brests is like twooa yung roes as is twins, 'at feeds amang t' lilies.
- 6.—T'll t' day breks an' t' shaddo's flees away, I'll git me to t' fell o' myrrh, an' to t' hill of franckincense.
- 7.—Thoo 's fair o-ower, my luv; ther' 's neea spo' i' the'.
